

Or a bear that could dance so well.

I have never seen such a beautiful bearded woman.

It was a pair of Siamese twins. Their names were Lou and Louis and they were the ring masters of a traveling circus and sideshow.

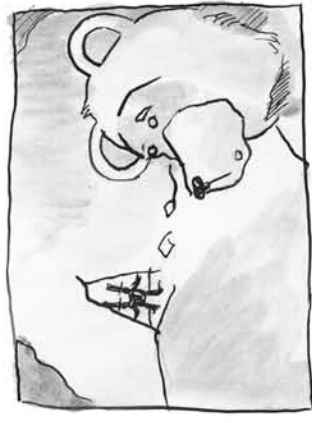

So from that day on we traveled from town to town with Lou, Louis, the animals, the clowns and all of the others.

They asked us to join them.

Part three

As we danced,

I noticed that we were being watched from the entrance of our cave.

And now ... Benny the dancing bear!
